Enhancing Law Enforcement Investigations: Insights from Investigative Trainer Niki Potter

The LexisNexis® Risk Solutions Investigative Training Team is dedicated to enhancing the investigative capabilities of law enforcement agencies nationwide. With courses tailored to tackle the complexities of modern investigations, our expert instructors bring years of experience as former law enforcement professionals. Niki Potter, Investigative Trainer, answers some commonly asked questions about the training program including what sets our program apart from other trainings, what attendees can expect to learn, how we offer support outside of the classroom, and more.

Check out the latest edition of our Connected Justice newsletter below to learn more about how our training program can help equip your team to meet today's challenges in the law enforcement field.
